ONE FINAL EFFORT

Competing in her final event for UAlbany, graduated senior Paige Vadnais set a new school record in the women's decathlon at the Vermont State Decathlon Championships. Vadnais' 6,084 point won the event. She placed first in six of the decathlon's events, tied for first in a seventh, third place in one, and fourth place in two. Vadnais was the first woman to compete in the decathlon for UAlbany.

OUTDOOR NATIONALS

UAlbany had two representatives competing in the NCAA Division I Outdoor Championships at the University of Oregon. Grace Claxton competed first in the women's 400m IH, placing ninth overall, earning second-team All-America status. Matthew Campbell competed next in the men's high jump, placing seventh overall with a new personal best mark of 7-02.25, earning first-team All-America status.

EAST PRELIMS

Ten Great Danes earned qualifying berths to the NCAA Division I East Preliminary Championships, and nine made the trip to the University of North Florida in Jacksonville. Matthew Campbell (HJ) and Grace Claxton (400m IH) placed highly enough in their events to qualify for NCAA Championships. Campbell set a new personal best mark (7-01.50), as did Claxton (55.90), breaking her own school record in the event yet again. Her time also satisfied the qualifying parameters to compete for her native Puerto Rico in this summer's Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro. Claxton is the first UAlbany women's track & field representative to compete in the Olympics. Additional personal bests came from Myles Banfield and Taariq Jones (400m).

WINDING DOWN

While most of the seniors on the team attended their commencement ceremony, their teammates visited Princeton University for the IC4A and ECAC Outdoor Championships. The women placed third overall as a team, fielding the lone Great Dane event champion, Grace Claxton, who won the 400m hurdles in 57.58. The men placed eighth as a team with 35 points, tied with Iona.

4 - FOR - 4

For the eighth-consecutive season, the men and women swept the America East Outdoor Championships. The men won their 12th in a row, scoring 219 points, 74 more than runner-up UMBC. The women had to work harder for their eighth-straight outdoor title, narrowly defeating runner-up New Hampshire 173-165. The men's individual champions include Robert Harris III (100m), Jaymen Teemer (200m), Sidney Gibbons (110m HH), Kingsley Ogbonna (HJ), Matthew Campbell (TJ), Jonathan Eustache (DT, HT), the 4x400m relay, and Taariq Jones (400m). For Jones, it was his seventh-consecutive America East 400m title between indoor and outdoor championships. The only time he hasn't won the event in his UAlbany career was his first ever indoor championship in 2013. On the women's side, Stephanie Osuji (100m), Grace Claxton (200m, 400m), Niamani Morrison (100m HH), Anika Hibbard (HJ), Solène Bastien (TJ) and the 4x100m relay won event titles. After the meet concluded, individual awards went to Jones (Coaches' Award, Elite 18), Claxton (Coaches' Award, shared with New Hampshire's Elinor Purrier), and the men's coaching staff. The two outdoor championships completed the sweep of all four America east team titles for the Great Danes in 2016.

The University at Albany saw its first-ever champion at the Penn Relays, when senior Grace Claxton won the women's 400m hurdles on the meet's opening day. Her time of 56.69 surpassed her own school record. Not to be outdone, senior Alexander Bowen Jr. became UAlbany's second-ever Penn Relays Champion, winning the men's high jump in 7-02.25. In between, the Great Danes qualified its first two relays ever to Championship of America finals at Penn. The women's 4x100m team of Stephanie Osuji, Chanel Smith, Claxton, and Taahira Butterfield placed sixth in the championship in a school-record 45.80, also winning the ECAC division. The men's 4x400m team of Jason Tomlinson, Momobou Jobe, Myles Banfield, and Taariq Jones also placed sixth in the championship in 3:09.00. Additionally, the Great Danes fielded competitors at RPI's Capital District Classic, claiming victory in 11 events as a final tune-up before conference championships.

HOSTING DUTIES

The University at Albany hosted the 32nd Spring Classic, the Great Danes' only home meet of the outdoor season. The meet featured over 650 athletes representing 16 clubs and 20 schools from around the country, and beyond. Anika Hibbard continued her hot streak in the high jump, improving her own school record for the second consecutive meet, clearing a height of 5-09.25, which also set a meet and facility record. Jessica Donohue made her season debut, placing second in the 5,000m in 17:18.73, a personal best which moves her into fifth-place in UAlbany history. On the men's side, Robert Harris III ran a wind-aided 10.43 in the 100m, Momobou Jobe set a personal-best of 47.63 in the 400m, and the men's javelin saw three Great Danes throw further than 190': Phillip Udeogu, Anthony D'Angelo, and Phillip Blanda. In total, between the men and the women, UAlbany claimed victory in 13 events on the day.

VERMONT, CALIFORNIA, & CONNECTICUT

A busy week for the Great Danes saw three competitions contested over a period of five days. First, the men and women visited the University of Vermont for a one-on-one dual meet with the Catamounts. The meet offered an opportunity for many of UAlbany's student-athletes to compete in secondary events. Anika Hibbard set a school record in the high jump with a mark of 5-08.50, breaking Rochelle Reid's record of 5-08.00. Next, Cara Sherman trekked cross-country to compete in the 10,000m at the Mt. SAC Relays. Her time of 36:12.50 ranks fourth all-time in school history. Finally, the team traveled to regional rival Connecticut, for the Huskies' second annual North-east Challenge. The men and women both finished in second place behind host Connecticut. The Great Danes earned a number of top 10 all-time performances, but the highlight of the day came in the high jump, where Hibbard improved upon her own school record set four days earlier with a mark of 5-08.75, and Alexander Bowen Jr., Matthew Campbell, and Kinglsey Ogbonna each cleared 7-01.00, a personal best mark for Campbell and Ogbonna.

LAST CHANCE

The Great Danes made their final trip of the season to the Ocean Breeze Complex, where a small contingent of student-athletes competed in the Fastrack Last Chance Meet. Taking advantage of the meet's namesake, the Great Danes earned three additional qualifying berths into IC4A championships in their final opportunity to do so.

CHAMPIONS AGAIN

The men won their 11th consecutive America East Indoor title, while the women won their fourth straight, and sixth of the last seven. The men claimed victory in five events, and the women won seven, behind Chinwe Igwe's championship record performance in the women's weight throw of 63-04.00. Women's individual honors went to Igwe for Outstanding Field, and Grace Claxton for Outstanding Track. On the men's side, Osiris Nicholson was named Outstanding Rookie. Finally, the UAlbany coaching staff was recognized as Staff of the Year for both the men and the women.

FINAL PREPARATIONS

The final week before conference championships saw the Great Danes bring a small contingent of competitors back to the Ocean Breeze Complex for the Fastrack National Invite. The goal for the meet was to satisfy or improve upon conference and IC4A/ECAC qualifying marks. Additionally, the men's 4x400m team, whose 3:11.26 is the fastest UAlbany indoor time since at least 2010, took a shot at running 3:09 or faster, but encountered some unfortunate luck during the race that derailed their attempt. The bulk of the roster enjoyed a weekend off to rest and recuperate before conference championships.

EASING BACK

The Villanova Invitational marked the first of four consecutive meets the Great Danes would have at the Ocean Breeze Complex. In the past this weekend was designated for the Collegiate Invitational (changed last year to the Armory Track Invitational). This year, however, after competing in a high-intensity meet at Penn State one week earlier, the coaching staff felt a quicker, lower-intensity meet was in order. Additionally, the Great Danes were exposed to competition from teams they normally do not see, such as Delaware, Monmouth, Princeton, and Temple. The men and women each placed second overall behind the University of Pennsylvania.

THE LION'S DEN

The Great Danes saw arguably their strongest competition at the Penn State National Invitational, a meet which features regular and invitational sections in most events and draws competitors from schools like Stanford, Georgetown, Villanova, and Syracuse. The high level of competition resulted in a veritable assault on UAlbany's record books, with 11 all-time top 10 performances between the men and the women.

IN-STATE RIVALS

The men and women each placed second at Cornell's Upstate Challenge, a meet which features competition between eight New York State Institutions. It is the only time the Great Danes will run on a flat 200m track during the season, a competitive disadvantage that is accounted for in NCAA conversion factors. Junior Jonathan Eustache set the first school record of the season, winning the men's weight throw with a mark of 66-11.50, surpassing the previous record of 65-06.25 set in 2011 by Wilfredo de Jesus Elias. In total, the men won nine events, including a clean sweep of the sprint events between the 60m and the 500m, as well as the 4x400m relay. The women's team recorded victories in four events.

NEW BEGINNINGS

After a year off and a change in venue, the UAlbany track & field program hosted the 13th Great Dane Classic at the new Ocean Breeze Complex in Staten Island, N.Y. It is the same venue that will host the America East Indoor Championships in February. The Classic spent its previous 12 iterations at the Armroy in New York City. The women finished third in the team standings while the men finished fifth. During the course of the meet, the Great Danes recorded 19 IC4A and ECAC qualifying marks.

WELCOME BACK

The UAlbany track & field program returned to campus after a long winter session. Immediately before finals the team held the 22nd annual RACC Classic Intra-squad Scrimmage, allowing the student-athletes their first live track & field competition since they arrived on campus in August. The men are 10-time defending America East Indoor Champions and the women have won the last three consecutive America East Indoor Championships and five of the last six.
